Nicely done. And it keeps me inside the line by about 30 feet!

Here you go. Still population balanced. Pulls the north line down to Pacific.

Makes a very strong Hispanic district.

Thanks.

Right now, SR city district boundaries combine Roseland with South Park. Can you keep all of RP while pulling in the area west of Brookwood and north of Aston southeast of the fairgrounds? What has to go in that scenario?

Here is one such map<<https://districtr.org/plan/73358>>.

· Population balanced.

- Follows major roads:
  - o Santa Rosa Avenue, Pet Hill Road, 4th Street, Brush Creek, Calistoga Rd., St. Helena Road, Stony Point, Occidental Rd., S. Wright, Ludwig, etc.
- Shows Coffey Park remaining in District 4 but could be in District 5 and still work.
- There is still a little population than can be moved from one district to another if anyone feels this splits an important area.

If you see any edits that would be helpful, I'd be happy to make them.

This is not an official "City of Rohnert Park" map, merely the musings of one resident.

There's a rumor you have a map that has Roseland and Moorland in D3, along with all of RP. Does it have me in it???

Please share if you can.
